The Stylish Touch

Andrea Böck, leading interior designer and owner of Ambience Home Design, was commissioned to design and furnish a property in La Alzambra. "The main objective was to lend this property a contemporary and fresh feel and to play with textures and shapes in a discrete yet stylish way, maintaining calm tones throughout." Andrea explains.

For a slick modern element, Andrea chose Arketipo's Plat sofa and Pipistrello lamps on either side to bring height and unequivocal style, while an Asian inspired textured and patterned fabric was the source of inspiration for the armchairs. For additional seating that would not obstruct the view she chose round pouffés in a silky fabric.

"We used metallic voiles to dress the windows, creating a touch of glamour; their creased effect and voluptuous drop add a stunning texture whilst reflecting light." Says Andrea. Andrea cleverly opted for two side-by-side coffee tables, as opposed to one and says "The additional space can easily be adapted for any occasion". And, as a finishing touch, she chapters the whole area with an extra large and beautiful soft rug from India.

A reading corner was designed at the far end of the lounge and for the overall look Andrea chose a set of beautiful white lacquered wooden stumps, a modern chaise longue by Desiree and a Françoise Nielly painting for a splash of colour.

A play with texture
In the master bedroom, striped silky wall-paper is the backdrop to stark white lacquered wall-mounted side tables and a large plush faux fur fills the bed. An end of bed storage bench was upholstered in a stunning geometric velvety fabric, contrasted by a simple linen armchair with stud detail, that fills the corner.

Andrea chose fine, dark, weather resistant faux wicker seating which is easy to maintain and tribal artwork to decorate the walls.
